• They called this Imbumba
• Name came from the concept first pronounced by the Prophet Ntsikana kaGaba, that black people will need to organize themselves against European domination
• Emerged during the time of DDT Jabavu when he formed the first organization to represent the aspirations of black people

Imbumba yamanyama
- To maintain the status of African men as leaders at home, church & society
- A safe space for African men faced with European onslaught on their culture.
- A place of catharsis for the African men who were depressed by the socio-economic and political conditions that were against them.
- To bring unity amongst African men some of who were divided by tribal wars, religion and politics.
- To evangelize and preach the good news to all the African people
- To escape the trappings of ignorance, illiteracy etc
- To seek opportunities that came with the white man’s religion and way of life
• To achieve a position of social status in society, where people could only achieve this through the clan name they held or the blood that ran through their veins.
• The Christian religion promised all men success and dignity, no matter whom they were and where they came from.
• To mobilize Christian men to fight for the liberation of themselves and their country against oppression.
Impact of YMG on African men

- Seeing that we are in Mamelodi, it is appropriate for us to remember the story of Sefako Mapogo Makgatho & use it as an example of the success of the YMG.
- Born at Ka Mphahle in Sekukuniland
- Educated at Daniel Mokone’s School which later became Kilnerton
- He was the first teacher of Kilnerton

- The founder of the Transvaal Native National Congress
- Founder of the Transvaal Teacher’s Union

Challenges Facing the YMG in 2012

- Most conservative movement in our church
- Promoted patriarchy
- Trapped in tradition and self-perpetuation
- Promoted theological simplicity at most naivety
- Perpetuated patriarchy and homophobic tendencies
- Silence on issues of human sexuality and culture
- Lack of political engagement
- Lack of economic engagement
Challenge for YMG in 2012: Faith & Masculinity.
• Masculinity refers to the male-dominant power model
• When the MCSA was the most racist church, the leadership was male
• When WWR started, the leadership was male
• When WWR2 started, the leadership was male
• Men have been on top of political power
• Power has been understood in terms of masculinity and destruction
Men have played good roles in bringing liberation from oppression and liberated their nations.

They received encouragement and teachings from their communities of faith, that they must work for giving life.

However most have ended up by being oppressors of the people they liberated by not keeping the balance between faith and power, thus becoming dictators.

Faith & Masculinity
The Need for changing Focus from 2012 & beyond

- Issues around Faith and Masculinity
- Interface between faith and masculinity
- Historically it was built on the male superiority syndrome
- Men are leaders both in the home, church and society.
• Serious insecurities of man in a changing world
• What is the implication of being male in a community that encourages equality, in leadership between man & women
• What is men’s role in a society that does not see him as a political head
• In 1912 power was accrued in terms of status, gender etc now it is in terms of process and purpose
There are psychological upheavals that some men have faced because of gender equality pushing factors.

Some men have even handed the church over to women, without being pushed but have withdrawn.

Sometimes even the liturgy appeals to women than men.
The solution for the problem of power and masculinity vs faith is found in the Jesus model of power.

- You see the masculinity model dominates.
- The Jesus model confronts the dominating model of power by service.
- You see male power as we have it now comes from culture and patriarchy, the Jesus model claims power from creation, where all are created in the image of God so are equally endowed with civil liberties and the pursuit of happiness so said the American constitution.
Obery Hendrikcs suggests the following principles of the Jesus model of power:

1. Treat the people’s needs as holy
2. Give a voice to the voiceless
3. Expose the workings of oppression
4. Name the injustice that we seeBelieve in non-violence, so take blows without returning them.
5. Walk the talk, or live the alternative idea
• Celebrate being a man, because even Jesus celebrated that:
• E.g. Say a word my daughter will be healed? Go your faith has healed your daughter
• Centurion say a word and my daughter shall be healed
• “Even in Israel I have not seen such faith”
1. Women are understood to be the giver’s of life from time immemorial. Pope John 11 once said women are too close to the mystery of life.

2. Protect life- men have always understood themselves as protectors of life, not destroyers of life.

This movement will need to look at its role in the promotion of life in a fragile world.
• 1. Participate in movements of transformation and life-giving in society
• Define what it is to be a christian man of the 21st century, who is at peace with his identity place at home, society and church
• Teach and live openly about issues of human sexuality and mentor younger African men about this.
• Support gender equality initiatives and movements
